EDWARD VNUK

Partner

Edward Vnuk holds interpersonal connections and kinship to the highest value for their contributions to his success. Being raised in a business-minded family, having been the Office Manager for Bernardini Ironworks and receiving his Associate's Degree in Mechanical Engineering from Penn State have given him a keen understanding of the expertise required to successfully manage BGS's operations while also enjoying a very happy home life.

Q Being a family-owned business, you've been involved with BGS for quite some time. How have you been able to develop the company?

A For the past 20 years, I have been working at the family business; transitioning from production laborer to production manager, to estimator, to overseeing daily operations.

Q What do you consider to be your biggest achievement?

A More than all else, the greatest accomplishment for me has been my marriage and the birth of my daughter.

Q What are you most looking forward to for the future of BGS?

A Keeping the family atmosphere for our employees is crucial; that and continuing to grow our business. I believe that our commitment to providing graphic services of the highest quality, along with the personalized guidance we provide for our clients, will lead us to many more years of operation.

Q Outside of work, what are some of your personal interests and hobbies?

A Besides the pleasure of spending time with my family, I most enjoy traveling, cooking and playing golf.
